Few words about Linux Session

Linux Session is a two-day conference dedicated to open source solutions. People from all over the world visit us each year to share their knowledge and to take part in this inspiring event.

Academic IT Association has the pleasure to host Linux Session for the 14th time already. Years of experience taught us how to pick the topics to reach a wider audience. We know that open source software is getting more popular with each passing year. That's why we really want to share the idea of Open Source. Our conference is targeted at experts, people passionate about open source technologies and, of course, students. Last year over 500 people joined us.

We can guarantee that the working with us will be a pleasant experience and we hope that this year Linux Session will be even better.

Thank you,
Michał Rypina and Błażej Świącicki
